2.Data and Methods

The Network and Social Consciousness Surveys (NECO Surveys)

- ◆ In Japan 3 surveys in 1999, 1997, 1998.
  - Tokyo (Capital)
  - Sendai (population 1 million, local central city)
  - Senpoku (rural area that abuts northern Sendai).
    - Each samples are 1500 (response rates of 55, 70, 64%)
- ◆ In Korea 2 surveys in 2004 ,2005.
  - Seoul (Capital)
  - Deagu (3rd largest city, population 2.5 million)
    - Each samples are 1600 (response rates of 62, 63%)

3.2. Causes of Unfairness: Regression Analysis

- ◆ Dependent variable ; Sense of Unfairness.
Evaluation on Current Society
- ◆ Independent variables
  - Age, Education, Property (sum of 13 items), etc
  - Relational Resource; Sum of variables about Politicians and Block Associations

22

3.2. Causes of Unfairness: Regression Analysis

Table 1 and 2

- ◆ Life Satisfactions had positive effects in all area.
- ◆ Age, Education... No significant effect.
- ◆ In Japanese Rural area Male...
Relational Resource had negative effect

3.3. Causes of Participation: Regression Analysis

- ◆ Independent variable ; Petition (informal request).
- ◆ Relational Resources had positive effects in all area.
- ◆ Age, Education, Other Social Consciousness ...
Almost no significant effect.
- ◆ In Seoul Male...
Education had positive effect
- ◆ In Seoul Female...
Age had negative effect

4 .Conclusions

- ◆ Strong Unfairness --- Current Society
- ◆ Strong Satisfaction --- Own Life

- ◆ Korea ... Many Participations, Small Relations.
- ◆ Japan ... Reverse of Korea.

- ◆ Urban and Rural
  - Tokyo ... Both Participations and Relations are small.
  - Korea ... No large difference between 2 areas.

- ◆ Relational resource with influential people is main cause of participation.
Hypothesis of Relational Resource was supported.
Political activities are based on local informal human relations.
- ◆ Education is not always useful for political participation.
- ◆ Age is not important in Korea and Japan, though there are strong traditional values of seniority in both societies.
- ◆ Uniqueness of Seoul ... High educated men and young women tend to participate.
